PAT NOONAN WAS THE MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER BUDWEISER SCORING CHAMPION IN 2004 WITH 30 POINTS ON 11 GOALS AND EIGHT ASSISTS.

HOOSIERS IN MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2005 MEN'S SOCCER

In the first 10 years of Major League Soccer (MLS), Indiana has seen 19 players earn time in the league. Twenty-two Hoosiers have been drafted in the MLS, including seven in the first round. In 2000, 2003 and 2005, Indiana saw three members drafted into the MLS with two first round selections in 2000 and 2005.

Seven different Hoosiers have been selected as MLS All-Stars on a total of 13 times. Indiana has had multiple selection in 2001 (3), 2002 (5) and 2004 (3).

Pat Noonan became the first Hoosier player to win the Budweiser Scoring Championship with 30 points in 2004. Three Hoosiers (Dema Kovalenko, Nick Garcia and Chris Klein) have all won MLS Cup titles going into the 2005 season.

2005 MEN'S SOCCER

Indiana soccer has been well represented at both the World Cup and the Olympic Games.

A former Hoosier appeared in every Olympiad from 1980 to 1996. Angelo DiBernardo and Armando Betancourt were the first two Hoosiers to represent their country at the Olympic Games. DiBernardo played for the United States while Armando Betancourt wore the uniform of Honduras at the 1980 games.

DiBernardo was joined by Gregg Thompson on the U.S. team in 1984 and John Stollmeyer represented the United States four years later.

The 1990s saw Steve Snow suit up for the U.S. in 1992 and Brian Maisonneuve wear the red, white and blue in 1996. Maisonneuve proved to be the team's leading scorer in those Olympic Games. Maisonneuve scored a pair of goals for the U.S. Olympic team that finished ninth. Maisonneuve's first goal sealed a victory over Tunisia, while the other brought the U.S. to a 1-1 tie with Portugal.

A former Indiana player has taken part in three of the last four World Cups. The first Hoosier to compete for a World Cup was Betancourt as he once again represented Honduras in the 1982 World Cup.

Stollmeyer competed in the world's largest sporting event for America in 1990, and Juergen Sommer did the same in 1994. Sommer would return to the World Cup in 1998, and he would be joined by two other former Hoosiers, Chad Deering and Maisonneuve.

"I remember telling both Chad and Brian that I felt they had the sort of special talents to achieve this honor of representing our country at the highest level," former head coach Jerry Yeagley said.

Maisonneuve played well in exhibition games leading up to the World Cup which solidified his place on the team. Deering made the team although he had not played in any World Cup qualifiers for the United States.

Three former Hoosiers are currently listed as U.S. National Team Pool Players. Nick Garcia and Chris Klein from the Kansas City Wizards are members, along with the New England Revolution's Pat Noonan. All three have played for the U.S. National Team in 2004.

CHRIS KLEIN

PAT NOONAN

Garcia, the 1999 College Cup Defensive MVP, was also a member of the U.S. U-20 National Team which played in the Junior World Cup in 1999.

In total, 13 Hoosiers have earned international caps for the U.S. Men's National Team. Stollmeyer leads the way with 31 international caps for a Hoosier, while Angelo DiBernardo and Klein are tied with three career international goals.

The latest Hoosier to make a splash on the international scene for the U.S. National Team is Noonan. The three-time All-American has been a mainstay on the U.S. Roster in 2005, including playing in World Cup Qualifiers. On June 9, Noonan made his first career qualifier start in a 3-0 victory over Panama. He made his first international start and scored his first goal, the game-winner, for the U.S. National Team in a 3-0 win over Colombia in Fullerton, Calif.

A number of current Hoosiers have enjoyed time with United States National Teams at various levels. A pair of Hoosiers have made appearances in each of the last two FIFA World Youth (Under-20) Championships.

Ned Grabavoy, currently of the Los Angeles Galaxy, and Drew Moor, a member of FC Dallas, played with the U-20 National Team at the 2003 World Youth Championships in the United Arab Emirates. At the World Championships, the U-20 team advanced to the quarterfinals for only the second time ever. The team also won its group for the first time ever, won the most matches by any U.S. team in any FIFA Men's World Championship (three), and tied the record for the most goals scored in any FIFA Men's World Championship (nine).

Grabavoy played in eight games in 2003 with the U-20 team, scoring two goals and dishing out three assists. Moor played in 11 matches in 2003 for the U-20 team while making eight starts.

Junior Jacob Peterson and freshman Lee Nguyen were both on the U.S. Under-20 National Team to play in the 2005 FIFA World Youth Championship in Holland. The team won Group D, the so-called Group of Death, with international powers Argentina and Germany. The U20s also advanced to the Round of 16.

JUERGEN SOMMER

Peterson played in all four games at the championship, making one start. He scored the game-winner on a header in the 56th minute against Egypt in group play. Nguyen played in two matches at the tournament, starting against Egypt.

Junior Jed Zayner has garnered some international experience as well. He was a pool player for the U-20 team in 2003 and played for the U-18 as well. Nguyen along with fellow freshmen Chay Cain, Chris Schuler and Brad Ring have seen action with the U18 National Team. Freshman Darren Yeagle also garnered time with the Under-20 National Team in training camps prior to the 2005 World Youth Championship.

Former Hoosier Joel Shanker represented the U.S. at the 2004 FIFA Futsal World Championship in Taiwan. Futsal is a five-on-five indoor soccer on a 42-meter court. A 12-player team can make unlimited 'flying substitutions in a 20-minute half format. The U.S. finished second in Group C with four points (1-1-1 record) to advance to the second stage. The national team would go on to place seventh in the championship.

Shanker made 14 appearances, six starts, for the U.S. in 2004. He netted five goals, which tied for second on the team. In all, Shanker has 17 career caps and seven goals for the U.S. Futsal Team. His 17 career appearances ranked tied for ninth in U.S. Futsal history.

Hoosier Rudy Glenn also made appearances for the U.S. Futsal Team in 1987. Glenn played in five matches, scoring a goal.
