JACK ABENDSCHAN

Offensive Guard
(1962-64)
1962 AP 2nd Team

It's probably not a coincidence that the three years Jack Abendschan played offensive guard for the University of New Mexico – 1962-64 – were the three seasons UNM captured Western Athletic Conference titles.

Abendschan was a three-year starter at guard and was twice (1963-64) named first team all-conference. He earned second team All-America honors from AP following his senior season.

Abendschan enjoyed a storied career in professional football, too, playing 10 seasons (1965-75) with the Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Canadian Football League. He was a five-time all-conference selection at guard and kicker and played on the Roughriders' 1966 Grey Cup championship team. In 1975, Abendschan was named to the Roughriders' all-time team and in the spring of 1993, he was recognized as one of the greatest players ever to wear a Saskatchewan uniform.

BOB BERG

Kicker
(1973-75)
1975 Football Writers
Association 1st Team

The All-America walk-on. That's Bob Berg, place kicker at New Mexico from 1973 through 1975. A first team Football Writers Association All-America in 1975, Berg's humble beginning at UNM was asking head coach Rudy Feldman for a jersey and a tryout prior to the 1973 season.

He shares the UNM single game record hitting five field goals in one game versus Fresno State in 1975. Also, Berg's 18 field goals in 1974 and '75 are a school record. Number 87 also holds the UNM record for consecutive field goals made (11 over the span of two seasons). A three-time Academic All-WAC selection, ironically, Berg was only all-conference once (1974) and not the year he earned All-America honors.

BUDDY BILLINGSLEY

Defensive End
(1992-95)
1993 Football News
All-Freshman 2nd Team

Billingsley was one of the top freshmen in the Western Athletic Conference and could have been a force throughout his career but was marred by injuries following his freshman campaign. Started all 11 games as a redshirt frosh, including the last nine at defensive end. He played more snaps than any other Lobo his freshman year due to his participation on punt, punt return, kickoff and kickoff return special teams. However, his work at defensive end led him to being named a second team freshman All-America by the Football News, when he recorded 75 tackles, seven sacks and 11 tackles for loss. He played only two games his sophomore season before tearing his ACL, but came back strong from the injury his junior season to notch 50 tackles and four sacks. Surgery to his left shoulder and knee problems ended his career before his senior season began.

ROBIN COLE

Defensive End
(1973-76)
1976 AP 3rd Team

One of UNM's most famous football alumni, Cole spent 12 years in the NFL after playing at New Mexico from 1973-76.

The versatile Cole played everything from tight end and deep snapper to defensive end and linebacker for the Lobos. It was, however, his prowess on the defensive side of the ball that led to third team All-America honors at defensive end in 1976.

Those same talents led Cole to the 1984 Pro Bowl and two Super Bowls with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Cole's professional career ended after he played the 1988 season with the New York Jets. Other collegiate accolades for Cole included two-time honors as a first team All-WAC selection (1975-76) and playing in the East-West Shrine Game (1977). Cole wore number 90 throughout his illustrious career at New Mexico.

TYLER GAUS

Punter
(2002 - present)
2002 The Sporting News
All-Freshman 3rd Team

The second walk-on in UNM history to earn All-

America honors, Gaus was named third team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News in 2002. The true freshman won the punting duties after trying out in fall camp and immediately displayed tremendous poise and potential. He finished the year with a 40.5-yard average on 79 punts, including a long of 60 yards. The San Diego native was also a tremendous weapon in the weekly field position battle with 24 punts inside the 20-yard line. Gaus did a fine job kicking within his coverage as opponents averaged just 6.4 yards per punt return during the regular season. New Mexico's 37.0 net punting average during the regular season was second in the Mountain West Conference and 17th in the country.

JOHNNY JACKSON

Linebacker (1981-84)
1982 AP 3rd Team

As a sophomore, Lobo linebacker Johnny Jackson claimed third-team All-America honors in 1982. He was also voted the Western Athletic Conference Defensive Player-of-the-

Year that same season.

Playing at UNM from 1981-84, Jackson claimed first-team all-conference stripes three consecutive seasons (1982-84). He is New Mexico's all-time tackler (483) and sack leader with 44.

Wearing number 47, Jackson twice was named Sports Illustrated National Player-of-the-Week (11-7-81 and 11-13-82). In 1981 he was tabbed AP Back-of-the-Week (11-7-81).

KURT JENSEN

Center (1989-90)
1990 Football News 3rd Team

Number 55 was one of the top centers to don the Cherry and Silver. Coming from Ricks College after the 1988 season, Jensen started all 24 games in his Lobo career.

The Gridley, Calif., native made an immediate impact on the program. Starting all 12 games his junior season in 1989, Jensen became the first Lobo offensive lineman to capture all-WAC honors in 11 years.

In 1990, Jensen was an Outland Trophy candidate, team captain, honorable mention all-league and became the ninth New Mexico player to earn All-America honors.

Jensen also participated in two post-season games, the All-America Classic in Tallahassee, Fla., and the East-West Shrine Classic in Palo Alto, Calif. He graded nearly 85 percent for his career at New Mexico.

TERANCE MATHIS

Wide Receiver (1985-87, '89)
1987 AP 3rd Team
1989 Consensus 1st Team

Terance Mathis came to the University of New Mexico unheralded, unrecruited and unsure of what the future would hold for him.

By the time the 5-9, Georgia native left the Lobos at the end of the 1989 season, he had set a plethora of records at the split end position.

Mathis became New Mexico's first-ever consensus All-America in 1989 after having his finest season ever in a Lobo uniform and at the same time redefining the standards for the collegiate wide receiver.

When he left UNM, Mathis was the NCAA career record holder for receiving with 4,254 yards. He also took over the top spot on the NCAA list for career receptions with 263. Mathis became the first player in NCAA history to record more than 250 receptions, 4,000 receiving yards and 6,000 all-purpose yards during the course of a collegiate career.

The notes on Mathis's career could fill a small book without any trouble. He caught at least one pass in 28 consecutive games and in 43-of-44 during his career. He was named All-WAC three consecutive seasons in 1986-87, '89 (he sat out 1988) and had 17 career games with more than 100 yards receiving. Mathis's best day as a receiver was on November 11, 1989, against the Utah Utes. He hauled in 16 passes for 252 yards and scored three touchdowns.

Described by NFL scouts as too small and too slow to play professional football, Mathis again defied the odds as he was selected in the 6th round of the 1990 NFL draft by the New York Jets.

BRIAN URLACHER

Linebacker/Free Safety (1996-99)
1998 Sports Network 1st Team
1999 Consensus 1st Team

Arguably the most decorated player in school history, Brian Urlacher was a first-round pick of the Chicago Bears in the 2000 NFL Draft. The ninth selection overall, Urlacher was drafted higher than any previous Lobo. After leading the nation in tackles (178) his junior year, Urlacher was a consensus first team All-America in 1999 at his free safety position. He was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe Award, given to the nation's top defensive back. Urlacher finished his career third all-time at UNM with 442 tackles. As a senior, he saw situational duty at receiver, catching seven passes, six of those for TDs. Urlacher tied for the team scoring lead with 42 points and averaged 15.8 yards on 10 punt returns.

In his first season with the Bears, Urlacher was voted the NFL's Defensive Rookie of the Year and was a Pro Bowl selection. Voted by teammates as the 2000 rookie recipient of the Brian Piccolo Award, Urlacher was one of two rookies to play all 16 games, starting at middle linebacker the final 14 to establish a team record for starts at the position by a rookie. He shattered Bears rookie records with 165 total tackles and eight sacks, making him the second Chicago rookie to lead the team in tackles. Urlacher has since started the last two Pro Bowls and was the NFC's leading vote-getter in 2002. He recorded a Bears-record 214 tackles in 2002, the third straight season he has led the team in tackles.

Note: According to The Mirage, UNM's yearbook, homecoming games between 1925-41 were always played against either New Mexico State or Arizona. The exception was 1926 when a field conflict prevented UNM from hosting either team.

New Mexico players and fans celebrate after Nathan Vail (No. 6) kicked a 22-yard field goal in the 1994 homecoming win over 9th-ranked and previously undefeated Utah.

Bowl History

1939 SUN BOWL Jan. 2, 1939 • El Paso, Texas Utah 26, New Mexico 0

Playing in its first bowl game, the New Mexico Lobos were shut out by the Utah Utes 26-0 in the 4th Annual Sun Bowl at Kidd Field in El Paso.

(Note: The remainder of this story was written by Albuquerque Journal Sports Editor Paul Weeks and edited by UNM Media Relations.)

Like a kite that had flown too high, New Mexico's far-famed "dipsy-doo" football circus blew up and out of control before 13,000 disappointed Sun Bowl fans with a powerful tribe of Utah Indians (as they were called at the time) pouring on a humiliating 26-0 defeat.

The Utes matched their conservative style of the game as taught by Coach Ike Armstrong against the once-colorful attack of the Hilltoppers (as the Lobos were sometimes called) to claim gridiron superiority as Big Seven champions over the Lobos, co-champs of the Border league.

Never did New Mexico fall so miserably during the entire season as against the white-shirted tribe. Observers declared the team had conquered foes with power equal to the Utes, but there were no alibis for the Sun Bowl loss. It was on the same field that the Cherry and Silver met its first defeat of the season against Texas Mines (now UTEP).

Placed on equal ground before the fray, the two teams were as unevenly matched as a flyweight in the ring with a heavy. The Utes smashed across two touchdowns in the first quarter and followed it up with a 20-0 margin at the half. When New Mexico did not take advantage of breaks given them in the last periods, the Utes coasted in to another score, using two teams with equal results.

Though the bowl was not filled to capacity, more than 500 perched on the barren hills surrounding the field. The crowd stripped overcoats and concessionaires did a rush business in sun glasses because of the summery temperature. The tang of autumn football weather was entirely lacking.

1944 SUN BOWL Jan. 1, 1944 • El Paso, Texas Southwestern 7, New Mexico 0

(Note: The following story was written by A.V. Gullette from the Associated Press and edited by UNM Media Relations.)

A final quarter forward pass, starring tailback R.W. MacGruder of San Marcos, gave Southwestern of Texas a 7-0 victory over the University of New Mexico in the 9th Annual Sun Bowl.

The 37-yard toss from fullback R.L. Cooper clicked after the underdog New Mexico Lobos had beaten back the highly-touted ground game of Southwestern's Pirates through three quarters and eight minutes of the final period.

The Pirates took the ball at the start of the fourth quarter on the 13. A pass, MacGruder to Cooper, made 27 and the two backs hit the line for a first down and MacGruder broke loose for 22 yards to the New Mexico 19.

Here New Mexico held and taking the pigskin, punted to the 46. Cooper passed to Hollon, Pirate end, for a first down and then to MacGruder for the winning tally.

The Lobos threatened only twice, in the second and third periods, but could not get beyond the Southwestern 16.

The game started under cloudy skies, but the sun broke through in the second half and playing conditions were nearly ideal.

The vaunted Southwestern defense held the Lobos to just four first downs and 48 yards total offense.

1946 SUN BOWL Jan. 1, 1946 • El Paso, Texas New Mexico 34, Denver 24

(Note: The following story was written by the Associated Press and Albuquerque Journal writer Clayton Byers. It was edited by UNM Media Relations.)

Don Rumley, a 19-year-old Navy reservist from Princeton, Ill., led New Mexico to a 34-24 victory over Denver University in the 11th Annual Sun Bowl. The 180-pound halfback passed for three touchdowns and rushed for another in the highest scoring game in the 11 years of this New Year's Day football event.

A crowd of 15,000 was on its feet throughout a 28-point fourth period in which New Mexico came from behind to capture its first bowl victory in three attempts. It was also the first victory for a Border Conference team in the El Paso game's history.

Denver, Big Seven champion, rolled up 10 points before New Mexico countered, and remained dangerous the last scoring its final touchdown with less than two minutes to play.

A 63-yard dash with an interception sent fullback Rudy Krall over with UNM's first score in the second period. Krall and Rumley engineered a 70-yard drive to set up the next score when Rumley scooted in from nine yards for a 13-10 Lobo lead.

Then, after a scoreless New Mexico third period, when Denver had regained the lead at 17-13, Rumley whipped out two aerials for touchdowns to sub end Bill Moser and a third to Lavon McDonald.

One reason the Lobos were Sun Bowl champs is a story of gridiron heroism. It's about Fred Doar, UNM's star center, chief linebacker and kicker.

The 210-pound Navy trainee was on the bottom of a heap in the first play of the game. After that he played outstanding ball stopping Denver backs time after time. But teammates noticed their captain wasn't "taking it up" as usual. In fact, he was silent. X-rays after the game showed that Doar had broken his jaw in two places on the first play.

Blue skies and a blazing sun made it baseball weather for the game. Nearly 16,000 short-sleeved customers heard a minister intone a prayer dedicating this game to the nine members of the Lobos' 1939 Sun Bowl team who left the football field to die on the battle field during World War II.

Bowl History

1947 HARBOR BOWL Jan. 1, 1947 -- San Diego, Calif. New Mexico 13, Montana State 13

(Note: The following story was written by the Associated Press and was edited by UNM Media Relations.)

The University of New Mexico Lobos came from behind to earn a 13-13 tie with Montana State College in the first San Diego Harbor Bowl before a crowd of 7,000.

Both teams displayed a flashy brand of football which kept the fans on edge throughout.

New Mexico opened the scoring soon after the game started when Hubert Hackett connected on a 26-yard pass to Lou Cullen. Hackett's place kick was wide.

Montana State surged back shortly after the second period started sparked by Neil Brooks 48-yard dash from scrimmage to paydirt. The placekick was blocked but Gene Bourdet picked up the ball and ran over for the extra point (allowed at this time).

Bill Nelson set the stage for the next score when he took Bourdet's short pass at midfield and streaked 42 yards down the sideline to the Lobo 8. After three plays netted just one yard, Bourdet passed to Ken Card on fourth down putting the Bobcats in front. The kick was again blocked.

The Lobos tied the count early in the fourth quarter as Cullen and quarterback Bryan Brock combined to engineer a 75-yard drive on the ground and through the air. Brock scored from two yards out cutting over tackle. Hackett's kick was good to knot the score.

The Lobos had a chance to win the game in the final minutes. UNM drove to the Montana State 12, however, Brock was thrown for a 12-yard loss. Hackett eventually tried a field goal from 35 yards out but failed.

1961 AVIATION BOWL Dec. 9, 1961 -- Dayton, Ohio New Mexico 28, Western Michigan 12

(Note: The following story was written by Albuquerque Journal Sports Editor Dan Russell and was edited by UNM Media Relations.)

New Mexico struck for early touchdowns in both the first and third quarters to defeat Western Michigan, 28-12 in a chilled Aviation Bowl football game.

Freezing weather, including sleet and snow, nearly grounded the inaugural (and only) Aviation contest and limited the contest to approximately 4,000 fans even though advance sales had surpassed 5,000.

New Mexico drove for two touchdowns to open the game and to also open the second half. Then it capitalized on Western errors to add the two other touchdowns.

Two fumble recoveries in the first quarter helped set up the second touchdown of the game. Chuck Cummings intercepted a pass and streaked 43 yards for the final Lobo touchdown.

Quarterback Jim Cromartie plunged for three yards for New Mexico's first touchdown. Halfback Bobby Santiago picked up the second touchdown from 10 yards out, and Bobby Morgan also went over from the 10 for the third score.

Santiago, who suffered bruised ribs at the end of the first half and saw only limited action in the second half, was voted the top back of the game. Santiago gained a total of 86 yards and had a 60-yard touchdown run nullified by a clipping penalty. Cummings was voted the outstanding lineman.

"Our kids were really up," said UNM head coach Bill Weeks. "They came to play and they hit hard and executed well throughout. Santiago and Cummings were outstanding and I felt that Bobby Morgan had his best game of the year."

Bowl History

1997 INSIGHT.COM BOWL Dec. 27, 1997 -- Tucson, Ariz. Arizona 20, New Mexico 14

Tucson, Ariz. - As the old saying goes, "There's no place like home for the holidays." However, the University of New Mexico football team could not have disagreed more with the statement, as the Lobos spent their Christmas vacation not dreaming of sugar plums and Santa, but instead of tackles and touchdowns. For the first time in 36 years, UNM football had something better to do during the holidays than shop for presents: it had a football game to play - the Insight.com Bowl against the Arizona Wildcats. The last time the Lobos had a game this close to New Year's Day was in 1961, when they battled Western Michigan in the Aviation Bowl. That game was played in the driving snow and cold in Dayton, Ohio, but the 1997 edition of Lobo football would suffer no such punishment for its season of prosperity. Despite enduring a week of rain-soaked practices and an unexpected chilly Arizona climate, there was absolutely no place the Lobos would have rather been than in Tucson getting ready to play their first bowl game since John F. Kennedy was in office.

Tony Doran claims UNM's participant trophy after the 1997 Insight.com Bowl.

New Mexico would lose the game 20-14, but the final score did not come anywhere near indicating the type of enthusiasm generated by the team and the fans to even be in the position to lose a football game on December 27. The game's attendance was 49,385, breaking the Insight.com Bowl record of 49,075, set in 1993. Although the game was played in front of the Wildcats' home crowd, the vocal majority certainly belonged to the Lobos. Over 10,000 Albuquerqueans made the seven-hour trek down I-25 South and I-10 West to Tucson in order to see UNM in the postseason.

Arizona entered the contest as a 10 1/2-point favorite and ran into a Lobo defense which held the Wildcats to 298 yards total offense - UA had averaged over 400 yards per game during the regular season. Arizona did strike first, however, scoring on Kelvin Eafon's 15-yard touchdown run midway through the first quarter. In fact, the Wildcats dominated the first 15 minutes, accumulating 115 yards total offense, or 39 percent of their entire total for the game.

New Mexico took almost no time in the second stanza to knot the score. Leigh ran 17 yards for a first down, then tossed a 15-yard touchdown pass to senior Milton Thomas in the corner of the end zone. Colby Cason's PAT tied the score at 7-7 and completed the eight-play 69-yard scoring drive.

The Lobos' euphoria did not last for long. On Arizona's next possession, quarterback Brady Batten threw for 51 yards and Trung Canidate ran for 13 more, including a three-yard touchdown, which allowed the Wildcats to reclaim the lead, 13-7.

The Lobos marched right back down the field and put Arizona's defense on its heels, by reeling off a 14-play 45-yard drive. UNM could not cash in on its possession, however, as Cason missed a 37-yard field goal. New Mexico would not get another opportunity to narrow the Arizona lead, and the teams headed to the locker room with the Wildcats leading 13-7.

The second half began in a disastrous fashion for the Lobo offense, as it went three-and-out in its first possession, then Leigh threw two consecutive interceptions. The resiliency of the UNM defense was the only thing preventing Arizona from increasing its lead, as the Lobos forced the Wildcats to punt on each of their first two series.

UNM could not prevent the dam from bursting the rest of the way, however, and after Leigh's second interception of the quarter - his third of the game - UA capitalized. Canidate was virtually unstoppable, rushing for 30 yards on six carries on the drive, which culminated with Eafon's one-yard touchdown dive. The score upped Arizona's lead to 20-7 with 2:07 left in the third quarter.

Once again, UNM would not allow Arizona to keep its momentum. Leigh found Brian Messer for a 35-yard gain on the Lobos' first play from scrimmage following Arizona's score, and UNM was back in business from there. Leigh ran for seven more up to the Wildcat 25-yard line, then found Chris Shelton open over the middle two plays later for an 18-yard gain to the Wildcat four. Leigh found paydirt on the next play, and with the five-play, 60-yard drive, New Mexico was right back in the game, trailing only 20-14.

New Mexico would get one more chance to stage a rally, taking over at the UA 48 with 5:31 remaining. On second-and-nine, Leigh dropped back and spotted Pascal Volz flashing across the middle downfield. His pass sailed just a bit, however, landing right in the arms of Wildcat DB Kelly Malveaux. Leigh's fourth interception of the game sealed UNM's fate, and the Lobos never got the ball back.

Bowl History

2002 SEGA SPORTS
LAS VEGAS BOWL
Dec. 25, 2002 -- Las Vegas, Nev.
UCLA 27, New Mexico 13

Las Vegas, Nev. - The Lobo football team did more giving than receiving on Christmas Day, giving the UCLA Bruins three turnovers, which they turned into 17 points, as UCLA beat New Mexico 27-13 in the Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl.

"I thought it was a tough-fought game on both parts and our kids competed hard," head coach Rocky Long said. "We made some mistakes that gave them some opportunities to score, and put us in a bad position."

Following a DonTrell Moore fumble, UCLA got on the board first with a Nate Fikse 49-yard field goal at 10:24 of the first quarter. UNM then took a 6-3 lead when senior cornerback Desmar Black picked off UCLA QB Drew Olson's pass in the flat and returned it 55 yards for a touchdown at the 8:20 mark of the first quarter. Junior kicker Katie Hnida then made her first career appearance, but had her extra point blocked. Already the first and only woman to dress for an NCAA Division I bowl game, Hnida made a little more history in becoming the first woman ever to make an appearance in an NCAA Div. I-A football game.

"I made the decision to let Katie (Hnida) kick the first extra point," Long said. "She has been a vital part of this team all year, and I felt that she deserved the opportunity to make a play."

The Lobos' had a chance to increase their lead early in the second quarter after driving to the UCLA 17. After three incomplections, Kenny Byrd's 34-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right as the 14-play, 74-yard drive resulted in no points, ending a UNM streak of 19 straight scores inside the red zone.

Fikse connected on his second field goal of the day from 39 yards out to knot the game at 6-6 with 6:21 remaining in the second quarter. The kick was set up by a questionable pass interference penalty on the Lobos in the endzone. The game remained tied at halftime.

The UCLA special teams rose to the occasion when Craig Bragg took a punt back 74 yards early in the third quarter to give the Bruins a 13-6 lead. More bad luck followed at the beginning of the fourth quarter as QB Casey Kelly's throw to the flat bounced off the back of TE Zach Cresap into the waiting arms of Jarrad Page. Page returned it 29 yards for a touchdown to give UCLA a 20-6 advantage.

On the next Lobo possession, WR Joe Manning caught a pass from Kelly only to be stripped of the ball. New Mexico's third turnover of the game set up a 1-yard leap by freshman Tyler Ebell, handing the Bruins a 27-6 lead. Kelly found Manning in the back of the end zone for a touchdown that brought the Lobos to within 27-13, but New Mexico would get no closer.

Kelly finished with a season-high 237 yards, completing 18 of 32 passes. Dwight Counter caught five balls for 78 yards, while senior Jake Farrell also had 78 yards receiving on 4 catches. Redshirt freshman TB DonTrell Moore, hobbled by a sprained right ankle late in the second quarter, was limited to 17 yards on 14 carries. He finished 2002 with 1,134 yards, the second-best single season rushing total in school history.

The defense certainly did its part, holding the Bruins to a season-low 167 yard of total offense. UCLA only had to travel 76 yards for its three offensive scores, two field goals and a touchdown.

Katie Hnida became the first woman to play in an NCAA Div. I-A football game when she attempted an extra point against UCLA in the 2002 Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl.

New Mexico's Retired Numbers

Jersey numbers 40 (Mike Williams), 42 (Bobby Santiago) and 43 (Don Perkins) will never be worn again at the University of New Mexico. They are the only three numbers that have been retired.

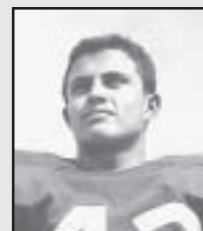

Williams, a four-year letterman from 1975-78, was a three-time all-WAC selection and held the conference's all-time rushing mark with 3,862 yards before being overtaken by Colorado State's Steve Bartalo in 1986. Williams still holds all of UNM's single game, season and career rushing records.

Bobby Santiago (1960-62) was a third team All-America in the first year of the Western Athletic Conference (1962). He led UNM to the league championship that season and still holds the UNM record for longest run from scrimmage, 91 yards vs. Colorado State in 1962.

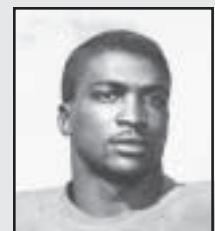

Don Perkins was a three-year letterman (1957-59) and a two-time All-Skyline selection in 1958-59. Perkins went on to star with the Dallas Cowboys and is a member of the team's "Ring of Honor." Perkins played with the Pokes from 1961-68. He was a two-time all-Pro and finished his career with 6,217 yards rushing.

Lobo Football Timeline

The 2003 season marks the 111th year (105th season) of New Mexico football. The first season was in 1892, some 20 years before the territory of New Mexico was granted statehood. The following are some of the more historic and colorful happenings that have occurred in the past 100-plus years:

Oct. 7, 1892 – The "University Boys" played their first game against Albuquerque High School. The preps won 5-0.

Nov. 11, 1893 – UNM got its first win, 4-0, over Albuquerque High School.

Jan. 1, 1894 – UNM defeated New Mexico State 25-5, the school's first contest against collegiate competition. The game was originally scheduled for Thanksgiving Day of 1893, but the Santa Fe railroad would not give the team half rates.

1894 – Professor W.A. Zimmer, a University faculty member, was named the school's first head coach. The first athletic hero was considered to be Roy Allen Stamm. During his playing career in 1893-94, Stamm was called "a gallant fullback and a gentleman" by the Albuquerque press.

1895-1898 – There was no football team. Student and faculty interest in athletics was very low. Pleas were made from time to time throughout this period by isolated individuals, requesting that athletics return to the college scene, but organizational movements never developed much beyond the talking stage.

1899 – Football resumed with two games against Albuquerque High School.

1900 – No varsity team.

1901 – UNM played its first away game, traveling to Las Vegas, N.M., to play New Mexico Normal College (now New Mexico Highlands). The Lobos lost 32-0.

1902 – No varsity.

1903 – UNM played two contests against an Albuquerque team called the "Minors." The Minors were composed of ex-University and high school players who were still interested in playing the game of football. However, past researchers of the University's football records made the mistake of constituting the "o" in the name Minors to be a typographical error and hence replaced it with an "e", making it the Miners, the name popularly given to the teams from the Institute in Socorro.

1904 – UNM played one game, defeating Menaul High School, 11-0.

1905 – UNM had its most successful season to date, going 5-1-1.

Oct. 13, 1906 – UNM utilized the forward pass for the first time against the Albuquerque Indian School. Granted, it was used only sparingly and chiefly to get out of a "tight spot" but nonetheless it led to a 28-5 victory.

Oct. 21, 1907 – UNM could not find another team to play except for a practice game against Albuquerque Indian School. UNM won 44-0 in 25 minutes of play.

New Mexico won its first-ever league title under head coach Gwinn Henry (far right). UNM was the Border Conference champion in 1934 with a record of 8-1. Henry coached for three years (1934-36), compiling an overall record of 16-12.

Nov. 13, 1908 – UNM met New Mexico Military in Roswell. New Mexico was guaranteed $400 by NMMI, however, the total gate of the game was just $15. The balance of the guarantee - $385 - had to be extracted from the military school's coffers. The beginning of a long rivalry began with the scheduling of the University of Arizona on Nov. 26.

1909 – UNM played its first contests outside the territory as it journeyed to El Paso, Tucson and Boulder, Colorado. The first professionally qualified coach was provided in C.L. McBirnie, a former football player at the University of Oklahoma. McBirnie needed four weeks to drill "the Universities" on the newest facets of the game. McBirnie proved to be a good teacher. UNM won the Southwestern Championship with wins over New Mexico Military, New Mexico State and Arizona.

1910 – Unfortunately, McBirnie could not be induced to return the following autumn and his absence became apparent as the University returned only two players and struggled to an 0-3 season. James Guy Hamilton of the Forestry Service volunteered his expertise, but the campaign was shortened to two games after officials decided to call off the season and save the money for the following year.

1911 – Ralph L. Hutchinson was named football coach and the school's first athletic director. UNM lost three of its best players early in the season and was unable to recover.

1912 – The territory of New Mexico was named the 47th state in the Union. Only three players returned from the 1911 team and the Lobos were consistently outweighed by 15 or 20 pounds a game.

1913 – Four players were chosen for the All-Southwest team following a 3-2 season: F.M. Calkins, H.A. Carlisle, Louis Hesselden and W.R. Brashear.

1914 – New Mexico went 3-1-1, the only loss to New Mexico Military. The game was played on the Roswell field on Oct. 23, after the teams had waited nearly a week for a suitable day to play.

1915 – UNM played New Mexico State on Thanksgiving in the Turkey Day Championship. The Lobos won 13-0. Three players made the All-Southwestern team: Carl Aydolotte, Calvin Langston and Louis Nohl.

1916 – UNM was given provisional membership in the Class B Division of the Rocky Mountain Faculty Athletic Conference. On Nov. 11, New Mexico defeated Northern Arizona 108-0, to set a school record for points. The game was called at the end of the third quarter because of darkness.

1917 – Many players were gone to Europe for World War I. Coach Hutchinson was called away unexpectedly as well and was replaced by the well-meaning, but inexperienced Professor E.L. Wood. UNM lost to New Mexico State 110-3. So humiliating was the defeat that members of the UNM team, under the leadership of their captain, George "Blanco" White, refused the award of their football letters. The strange epilogue was given national attention and favorable comment in many of the country's larger newspapers such as the New York Times.

1918 – No football due to World War I, the last year UNM did not field a team.

1919 – UNM recorded one of its most successful football seasons to date, going 3-0-2. The game with the Colorado School of Mines played in Albuquerque on Oct. 25, created a large amount of interest and was attended by the largest crowd to see a football contest in the State of New Mexico. The two teams played to a scoreless tie.

Lobo Football Timeline

1920 – Roy Johnson, a Michigan graduate, began a 39-year tenure with the University of New Mexico as the school's head coach. "Lobos" became the official nickname of UNM athletics teams.

1921 – A large and experienced group of 42 players reported for fall practice.

1922 – Roy Johnson halted the last non-university football competition when he stopped the always friendly but somewhat out-of-date relationship with Albuquerque Indian School after the '22 season.

1923 – The Lobos had big wins over New Mexico Highlands (82-7) and Montezuma College (75-6).

Nov. 11, 1924 – Tom Popejoy, UNM's president from 1948-68, kicked a 12-yard field goal in the waning seconds to give UNM a 3-0 win over Arizona in Tucson. The year also marked the inaugural rally of UNM athletics supporters at the Franciscan Hotel. The squad members were presented with gold footballs for their victory over Arizona and their exceptional record of 5-1. UNM professor Ralph Douglass introduced player numbers on the jerseys, 15 years before the NCAA adopted the idea.

Nov. 7, 1925 – New Mexico had its first Homecoming game. The Lobos lost to Arizona 24-0.

Oct. 16, 1926 – The Lobos fell to Texas A&M 63-0, in College Station. It remains the only game between the two schools.

1927 – The Lobos were Far Southwest champions, posting an 8-0-1 record.

It's the only team in modern history (since 1920) to go an entire season without a loss. The squad blanked five opponents and allowed only 26 points. The lone blemish was a 6-6 tie at UTEP.

1928 – Lobos went 5-2-1 on the season, and both losses to non-conference teams (New Mexico Military, Northern Arizona) hurt New Mexico's chances at a Southwestern title. John Dolzadelli - a long-time athletics department employee - was the captain.

Oct. 10, 1929 – The New Mexico varsity football team became possibly the first, if not the first, to fly to an intercollegiate game. UNM played Occidental College in Los Angeles. A portion of the team flew on two Ford Tri-Motor planes. Coach Roy Johnson cautiously sent only the second team and manager on the airplane, while he and the first team made the trip by rail.

After the game, which UNM lost 29-0, the first team flew home while the second stringers made the return trip by rail. The game, played in the Rose Bowl, was the first night game for a UNM football team, and the crowd of 17,000 was the largest ever for the Lobos until the mid-40's. The football was dyed white to lend itself better to night football. New Mexico received a $5,000 game guarantee.

1930 – It was Roy Johnson's last season as head coach. Johnson went 40-32-6 in 11 seasons, and he remains UNM's winningest coach. Johnson served as UNM's athletics director from 1920-49.

1931 – Charles Riley, a tackle on the famed Notre Dame teams of the '20s was hired as head football coach. Riley installed the famous Notre Dame system, while New Mexico joined the Border Conference.

1932 – The Lobos tied with Arizona for second place in the Border Conference after midseason injuries cut the team in half.

1933 – Center Jack Walton was named all-Border Conference, the first Lobo to earn all-league accolades.

1934 – Riley was relieved of his duties and Gwinn Henry was named head coach. Henry was one of the most respected names in college football, and at the time was coaching a professional team, the St. Louis Gunners. The Lobos won their first conference championship with an 8-1 record.

1935 – The Lobos went 6-4 on the season despite suffering early season injuries. New Mexico's strength was shown in its six victories, all shutouts.

Nov. 26, 1936 – Future UNM athletics director Pete McDavid recovered a Northern Arizona fumble and rambled a school-record 97 yards for a touchdown in the 15-6 victory.

1937 – Henry retired and Ted Shipkey became head coach. Shipkey was an All-America at Stanford and football coach at Arizona State. The Lobos went 4-4-1 in his first season.

Sept. 21, 1938 – UNM played its first home night game, blanking Western New Mexico, 46-0. It was also the first season the Lobos played their home games at Zimmerman Field.

Jan. 1, 1939 – Following an 8-2 regular season, New Mexico played in its first bowl game. Shipkey's Lobos lost to Utah 26-0, in the Sun Bowl in El Paso. Later in 1939, running backs Bill Dwyer and Dutch Niemants became the first Lobos selected in the NFL Draft. Dwyer went to the Chicago Cardinals in the seventh round, Niemants to the Detroit Lions in the 16th round.

Nov. 30, 1940 – UNM defeated 18th-ranked Texas Tech in Albuquerque 19-14, ruining the Red Raiders' Cotton Bowl chances. The Lobos also kept Arizona out of the Sun Bowl by defeating the Wildcats 13-12, in Tucson the previous week. Austin O'Jibway, a 215-pound guard, was awarded a spot on the honorary Little All-American Eleven team.

Nov. 8, 1941 – UNM students declare the day a holiday as they journeyed south to Las Cruces for the game with New Mexico State. The Lobos spoiled NMSU's homecoming by beating the Aggies 28-0. Shipkey finishes his five-year UNM career with a 30-17-2 record and no losing seasons.

1941-45 – UNM would have had no football during the war years had it not been for the presence of the V-12 training personnel in Albuquerque.

1942 – Willis Barnes became the new coach. Football was a difficult position in '42 as transportation was next to impossible and several players were lost to the armed services. Norville "Red" Smith and Bill Thompson received All-Border Conference recognition.

Jan. 1, 1944 – UNM lost to Southwestern (Texas) 7-0, in the Sun Bowl.

Oct. 14, 1944 – The Lobos faced a team with All-Americans everywhere in the form of the Second Army Air Force team in El Paso. UNM lost 89-6.

1945 – The Lobos completed a 5-1-1 regular season as many athletes returned from the war.

White also grabbed the honor in 1954.

All-Time Teams

The 1998 football season marked New Mexico's 100th as a college football program. In honor of that feat, the University wanted to take the opportunity to recognize its school's finest. To that end, a committee of media, former players and UNM sports historians selected names for a ballot which was later published in the Albuquerque Journal, giving fans the opportunity to vote. A write-in slot was also included in the event that a fan believed there was an athlete who was deserving, but not included on the ballot. A total of 979 ballots were submitted and tallied by the UNM Media Relations Staff. The results were announced in the October 10 issue of the Journal (Homecoming weekend). Results are posted here, along with the original All-Time team, which was selected in 1946 (right).
